New President Wants to Build Up Country; Will Call Extra Session of Congress.

Mexico City, June 1.—Men who have been driven from Mexico will be invited to return to help build up the country, said Provisional President Huerta today. But, he said, those who had crimes against them would have to face trial. An extraordinary session of Congress will be called shortly. In his statement to the Associated Press in which he declared he would give guarantees to all political men, he said, "When I take the oath as Provisional President of the republic I wish the Mexican public to know I do not assume the office to serve the interests of any political party." From an international viewpoint I will strengthen the diplomatic and commercial relations of Mexico with all other peoples in accordance with the fundamental principles of international law, justice and faith.

1200 BARBERS IN BROOKLYN GO ON STRIKE

(By Associated Press)

New York, June 1.—Twelve hundred barbers in Brooklyn were ordered to strike today to enforce demands for weekly salary of $35 and 50 per cent of all collections over $10 a week. Strikers said they hoped to extend the movement throughout the 4500 shops in Brooklyn if their demands were not met.

tion of the Fairhaven mills, however. At the Fairhaven mills employees were told they would be notified when the company was ready to resume operations.

The strikers made demands some weeks ago for one day off in seven without reduction in pay. The manufacturers met this with an offer of 16 per cent wage increase. This same had been announced for the operatives. The strikers reported for work as usual today to declare their intention of keeping up only enough steam for the protection of property. Several of the mills operated by motor power were not affected. The operatives who remained today left their work in sympathy with the loom fixers, who are still out.

VETERANS OF THREE WARS PAY ANNUAL TRIBUTE TO DEAD

Perfect Weather Brings Out Thousands of Greater Portsmouth People to Watch or Take Part in Parade and Ceremonies

Memorial Day, blessed with perfect weather conditions, was a great day in every sense of the word. The warm sun tempered with a cool breeze made the conditions perfect for the splendid work of remembering the dead, not only those who have fallen in the defense of their country, for the day is now more than that, a day in which the entire people remember their dead and fittingly decorate their graves.

The day had an added significance, for to the thousands who have paid the great sacrifice in previous wars, were added those who have paid in full for the world war, and here the younger generation of the soldiers, the veterans of the Spanish war and the World war, joined with the fast disappearing veterans of the Civil war in carrying out the work the older veterans have performed so well for a great many years.

The principal feature of the day was the parade in the afternoon with services at the South cemetery. It was a fine turn out, the members of Storer Post being given a proper and dignified escort of marshals, sailors and the younger veterans of the Spanish and World wars. The Civil war veterans rode in automobiles and they were given an ovation along the line of march.

The following is the roster of the parade and the line of march:

Marshall—Major Chautney B. Hoyt, Chief of Staff—James A. McCarthy, First Division—First aide, George L. Webb; aides, Herman Burke, William Parker, John Kellher, William Hall, and, Sergeant Edwards Holmes, Quartermaster Comptroller, Ralph Holt, Emerson Miles, Herbert Bremmell, Philip Badger, Raymond Caswell and Lieutenant George W. Gorham.

TROOPS ACT AS AN ESCORT FOR BRISTOL WORKERS

Rubber Company Clerical Force Return to Work Without Injury From Strikers

(By Associated Press)
Bristol, R. I., June 1.—Officers of the National India Rubber Co., were re-opened to the clerical force today under the protection of national guardsmen and with no repetition of the rioting or last Friday in which several persons were injured. The troops escorted the workers in small parties from various sections of the town to the factory, not once coming in contact with striking operatives or sympathizers. A group of office employees from Providence also were guarded on their way to the plant. It was estimated that about 200 of the 300 persons regularly employed in the office building a number of women and girls went to work. No attempt was made to resume operations in the factory. Scores of operatives reported at the gate ready to work but were turned away by the guards. The strike at the local plant which manufactures tennis shoes and wire insulation has been in progress for nearly a month. It was called as a result of a difference over the question of wages.

A SAFE WATER SUPPLY

Milk is the cheapest and most perfect food. It is also a good food for germs. It is absolutely known that raw milk may cause typhoid fever, scarlet fever, diphtheria, sore throat, and tuberculosis.

PERFECTLY PASTEURIZED MILK IS SAFE

It is milk that has been quickly heated to a temperature of 145 degrees—held at that temperature for 30 minutes—then quickly cooled to below 50 degrees—and kept cold. That's all. Science has proven that this process kills the dangerous bacteria that may be in the milk.

The milk is not altered chemically—it is unchanged in food value, digestibility or flavor. But it does make the milk SAFE—and, if kept cold, greatly prolongs its keeping.

Confident that the people of Portsmouth are not less progressive than other cities—many communities demand it exclusively—we have made available for this city an adequate supply of clean, fresh, perfectly pasteurized Milk.

Sound Talk on Americanization.

An interesting contribution to the subject of Americanization of foreigners, which is receiving much attention at the present time, was made a few evenings ago in a New England city by Owen A. Hoban of Gardner, Mass., in an address before a Chamber of Commerce. He took the ground that most of the foreign-born residents are a valuable asset to a community and that the way to Americanize them is to show an interest in them and co-operate with them in the development of the community and the country. He said there is no danger in their talking and reading in their own language. Their children will speedily acquire English, if the parents do not, and even the latter will not be long in the country before they are able to master English sufficiently for all practical purposes. Mr. Hoban spoke of the different methods proposed for Americanizing foreigners, but confessed the best method of all the extension of the right hand of fellowship and friendly treatment under all circumstances. He said no country has a corner on any of the virtues of life and that some of the foreigners have a culture equal to our own. "Physical possessions," he said, "are not our most valuable assets. Our most valuable assets are the men and women in the community who make this country their home."

This is largely in line with what this paper has had to say on this subject on numerous occasions, and a truth that is well understood by observant people. If there are foreigners who are not the most desirable citizens, the same is true of many thoroughbred Americans, and it is time to begin to base our judgment of men and women on what they are and not on the fact that they came from foreign countries.

It is well that words like these should be spoken at a time when the actions of radical foreign agitators have created in the minds of the unthinking a prejudice against foreigners as a class. In spite of all that these trouble makers have said and done the fact remains that the vast majority of those who have come from foreign countries to make their homes here have come with honest intentions to fit into the civilization of the New World and become a worthy and self-respecting element of its population. As Mr. Hoban said, most of them are engaged in the production and distribution of the necessities of life, and fill an important place in the industrial life of the nation.

These are facts that should be emphasized and reiterated. It is folly to cultivate or tolerate prejudice against foreigners merely because they are foreigners. The way to Americanize them is to judge them by what they are, give them a square deal and treat them like fellow beings. Let no one doubt that such treatment will be appreciated and that in nine cases out of ten it will be found altogether the wisest and best policy.

Americanization schools of one kind and another may have their uses, but the real work of Americanization is not to be confined within four walls or restricted to formal teaching. It is the work of the community, of every native-born citizen who is brought into contact with those who have come from distant shores. In the daily contact—in the field, in the factory, in the store and in the streets—is where the real and lasting work is to be done, and the sooner this is recognized the better will it be not only for the foreigners, but for the home folks as well.

The action of the senior class of the High School in deciding to wear simple and inexpensive gowns at the graduation exercises is strictly in line with sensible efforts to bring down the cost of living, and is to be heartily commended.

Out in Iowa the other day an aviator landed with eighteen cases of Canadian whiskey which he disposed of quickly at the "going price," which with most people is sufficiently prohibitive in itself. The officers were soon on the trail, but a trail through the air isn't the easiest thing in the world to follow.

The claim that Carranza committed suicide, which is doubted in many quarters, may not be so much out of the way, after all. He served as president of Mexico for some years, and while that is a slow method of ending one's earthly existence, it is by no means an unfailing one.

S. M. Darling of the Bureau of Mines says there is coal enough in the ground to last the people of the United States 7,000 years. But if prices continue to advance at the present rate it will come mighty high by the end of that time.

NUPTIAL EVENT
MISS WARD BRIDE
OF NEW YORK MAN

Impressive Ceremony Followed by Brilliant Reception; Wedding Outcome of War Romance.

A wedding of unusual brilliancy and interest, and one which revealed a war romance, took place Monday afternoon at four o'clock at the residence of Fred Hartford Ward on Miller Avenue when his only daughter, Miss Florence Mary Ward and Thomas Lee Kene, son of Mrs. Ellen Elizabeth Kene of Montclair, N. J., were united in marriage in the presence of nearly a hundred relatives and friends, including a good number of out-of-town guests.

The rooms of the attractive home were radiant with flowers and verdure in recognition of the event, the decorative scheme being planned by Carlson of Boston, who furnished the flowers. Mrs. Charles P. Berry and Miss Helen S. Walker assisted in the arrangements. The color scheme was blue and pink, the flowers being principally larkspur and snapdragons.

The large drawing room was the scene of the nuptial event, which took place by candlelight. From the window in the rear of the room hung a green velvet curtain and at each side standing from the floor were candelabra. In front of the curtain was the kneeling bench. At either side stood a juniper tree and in front of each a large jardiniere of snapdragons and larkspur. Huge bouquets of these blossoms stood in pedestal vases in front of the pillars in the room, the entire decorative effect being beautiful. The hall and stairway had elaborate adornments of apple blossoms.

An orchestra in charge of Mrs. Clara Marden furnished music for the occasion and at the appointed hour rendered the "Bridal Chorus" from Lehengren as the wedding party entered the room. The ceremony was impressively performed by Rev. William C. Bourke, pastor of the Catholic Church of Scarsdale, N. Y., and a cousin of the groom, he having been commissioned by the Governor to act through the courtesy of Rev. D. Alex Sullivan, permanent rector of the Church of the Immaculate Conception of this city.

The fair bride, who was given in marriage by her father, made a most attractive picture in her rich wedding gown of cream white Georgette satin, unfastened with short barem skirt; eyes—their objective has been attained; tabler overskirt trimmed with Point D'Orsay lace; wreath of orange blossoms on side of panel. Her veil was of fine silk net caught with orange blossoms; Russian head-dress of Point de Gaze; if they knew the remarks of well Alcock lace and orange blossoms, the enlightened and fair-minded people, lace falling on either side of the shoulder to the ground. A shower bouquet of watanos and iris completed her costume.

Mrs. Sherman B. Ward of Newton, Mass., was matron of honor and wore a rich gown of orchid shade over peach Georgette.

The bride's mother wore a rich gown of burgundy shade and corsage bouquet of Ophelia roses. The mother of the groom wore wistaria silk and carried Ward roses.

The ushers were Sherman B. Ward of Newton, Mass., a cousin of the bride; Humphrey Redfield, Bronx, N. Y.; William G. Avery, Amherst, Mass., and Jerome Waldron of this city.

A choice wedding repast was served by Carter Haywood Burton in the dining room which was in floral array. The table decorations were of snap dragons. The serving of the wedding meal by the bride, and in which was concealed souvenirs, excited much interest among the younger people. The ring was discovered by Miss Helen S. Walker and the thimble by Mrs. Manning Phibbs.

Mr. and Mrs. Kene left later on their wedding trip and upon its conclusion will take up their residence at 63 Lafayette street, New Rochelle, N. Y., for the summer.

For her trip the bride wore a dark blue tricot tailored suit and a dark blue taffeta with blue and white check facings.

Beautiful gifts were showered upon the bride and the rich and extensive display told the story of many friendships which both enjoy. The gift of the groom to the bride was a bracelet set with sapphires and her tribute to him a green turquoise little finger ring. The groom presented the best man and ushers with tributes and the bride sent her wedding bouquet to Mrs. John Walton. To her matron of honor she gave a vanity case.

The attractive bride has always been a favorite with her acquaintances, winning friends by her lovable nature and pleasing personality. She attended Miss Hall's School in Pittsfield, Mass., for five years and was graduated from Smith College in 1917. Later while in California she took up and completed a course at a business college and also attended Simmons College, Boston. She has travelled considerable, and in company with her father made an extended trip abroad some years ago. In the summer of 1918 she accepted a position in a movement health office at York, Me., and, wishing to do further war work, accepted a position in Washington, D. C., in October of that year and which she held for six months. It was here she met the groom, who during the administration control ending by proclamation of President Wilson. This means the passing of the government contract established during the war as a means of stimulating the production.

Mr. Kene is a graduate of Amherst College, class of 1911 and was on the college baseball team for four years. He is a member of the Theta Delta Chi Fraternity and was one of the most popular members of his class. Since being released from service he has held a position as merchandising manager of the Chinese Journal Publishing Company of New York. His sterling qualities have won for him the respect of all who know him.

The couple start out on life's journey with the sincere good wishes of all who know them and the hope that their future may be as full of sunshine as was their wedding day.

Among the guests from out of town were the following: Mrs. Ellen Elizabeth Kene, John P. Kene, Mr. and Mrs. Hans Polters, Mr. and Mrs. Philip Skinner, Montclair, N. J.; Mr. and Mrs. Humphrey Redfield, Bronxville, N. Y.; William G. Avery, Amherst, Mass.; Mr. and Mrs. William B. Nelson, Ansonia, Conn.; G. W. ## COOLIDGE WANTS TO APPOINT COAL ADMINISTRATOR

Foreign Shipments Must Be Stopped or New England Will Suffer.

(By Associated Press)

Boston, June 1.—Governor Coolidge in an official message to the House today asked for authority to appoint a coal administrator and for an appropriation of $25,000 to defray the expenses of a coal administrator. The Governor declared in discussing the matter later that the shortage of coal in New England was due almost entirely to shipment to foreign countries. "Out of 6 million and three-quarter tons of coal at Hampton Roads during April," the Governor said, "about 300 or 400 tons was shipped notwithstanding that the pier at Hampton Roads was built for the specific purpose of handling coal for New England." The real remedy, according to the governor, is to stop foreign shipments and until that is done he considers highly necessary that such coal as can be obtained for New England should be equally distributed to arrive from outside.

"County Fish and Game Warden E. H. Metcalf of this place also placed the facts before State Fish and Game Commissioner Elmer Leavitt at Montpelier, who said he would take the matter up with the New Hampshire department. According to Town Clerk L. M. Hayes of Bellows Falls who had the facts before County Warden Metcalf, two Bellows Falls Police residents, Tony Brinkley and Harry Marcus, recent Vermont fishing licensees from the town clerk and paid for them. They crossed on the Vermont shore of the Connecticut river in Bellows Falls and fished in the river and while so engaged an automobile containing New Hampshire officers crossed the river into Vermont, asked the fishermen to show their license and when they did produced Vermont license and were made to show New Hampshire license. The visitors took away the Vermont license and returned to New Hampshire. They told the fishermen that if they wished their boat back they must come to New Hampshire and pay for license in that state.

When Town Clerk Hayes learned of the matter he telephoned to Deputy Warden W. J. Corbett of North

Walpole, N. H., who said he had the evidence and would give them up when the owners came after them and took out New Hampshire licenses. Mr. Hayes requested the men to attempt to get the fishermen into New Hampshire and arrest them for fishing in New Hampshire waters without license and he laid the facts before County Warden Metcalf and State Commissioner Leavitt.

Neither the New Hampshire department of fish and game nor the attorney general had received any information of the impending battle which is hinted at by the Vermonter. Mean time they and their wives have to forego the pleasure of fishing as they are without the authorization which is required in Vermont. In the days before the 18th amendment was added to the federal constitution it would have not required a very great invitation to prevail upon Bellows Falls fishermen to jump across the bridge into Walpole but today the two fisherman decide to follow the suggestion that they move to the Grandine state and accordingly they cannot return the Bellows Falls from Vermont.

Y. M. C. A. GARRY OFF MEMORIAL DAY HONORS

Industrial Field Day Events Closely Contested; Andrews Star of Meet.

The Portsmouth Industrial Field Day held at the playgrounds yesterday morning proved a big success in every way, most of the events being closely contested and in the field events especially. The outcome was uncertain up to the last trial throw or jump. The Y. M. C. A. won the meet after trailing behind the Atlantic Corporation in the early part of the meet, with 33 points to the Atlantics' 26. Andrews was wholly responsible for the big lead of the chip yard. He won the first three events, namely the 100 yard dash, standing broad jump, and 220-yard dash, and not being content with this, went out and put the shot 36 feet 6 inches, whipping that event also.

Andrews is a lanky lad and through his training and coaching at New Hampshire college, proved himself an all round athlete. The standing broad jump was a very close event. Andrews and Hicks being in the trials at 9 feet 10 1/2 inches, Andrews' jump of 10 feet 6 1/2 inches won him the cup.

M. P. Penn of the Navy Yard contingent, demonstrated a "come back" in the race run that only old time collegiate champions can do. Penn, who was the star long distance man on the Penn track team about a decade ago, and incidentally the inter-collegiate champion at that time, took the lead at the gun in the mile grand and never relinquished it. In fact, the distance between him and the field grew larger in the home stretch he let out some of the real old-time speed. His time was 4:28 1/2 for the estimated mile, which was exceptionally good.

The other stars of the meet were Harold Sweetser of the Navy Yard, Foye and A. Hicks of the Y. M. C. A. Kirkpatrick was also a good point-gainer for the winners.

The last event of the morning, the relay race, was won by the Y. M. C. A. Smart, Brindle, Hampton and A. Hicks being the team. The time was 4 minutes 28 1/2 seconds.

BRUSH FIRE AT COUNTRY CLUB

A fire which started on the grounds of the Portsmouth Country club on Monday evening, for a time threatened to sweep clear through to Sherburne road. The fire started from some unknown cause near the trap-shooting lodge and burned the shooting platforms. It spread from this to some brush and then ran through a but-over lot.

The wind was fortunately away from the high growth of timber but the flames fanned by a good breeze soon covered several acres of land and threatened to work out to the grounds of the Rockingham Fair grounds.

The chemical was sent out and it did valuable work until the winds were exhausted. By this time a good crowd of men had gathered and headed by Chief Woods, they soon had the fire under control. The loss to the Country club will not exceed $100, as it was mostly a cut over lot.

The chemical was called twice to the Little Harbor road Monday afternoon where a wood lot owned by Mr. Griffith was on fire.

POLICE COURT

H. G. Dunbar was arrested on Monday while giving a wild west riding performance with an outfit in the business section of the city. He was fined $100, and sent with 30 days in jail added. The jail sentence was suspended on payment of the fine and costs.

The defendant pleaded not guilty and said he had no intention of any recklessness with the machine and that if anything was wrong in the eyes of the law, it was due to his nervous condition. He informed the judge that he intended to leave Portsmouth and would likely locate in New York.

Owen Feeney arrested on a statutory charge on Saturday was not on hand to face the court when his name was called and his bail of $50, was forfeited.

Minnie Harmon also charged with statutory offense was ordered quarantined at the House of Correction.

Dennis E. Ryan charged with drunkenness likely saved a few dollars when he failed to appear on Monday. His deposit of $10 as bail money was forfeited.

The case against a west end woman charged with violating the public health laws was continued for sentence. She was brought in on a complaint charging her with sending children to school with measles prevalent in the family home.

Owing to the small number of men in the Naval Band it was combined with the new Portsmouth City Band in the parade and exercises on Memorial Day under director Zangari. BILL CRONIN SAYS THE CIRCUS DOING A BIG BUSINESS

William F. Cronin, ticket agent and one of the paymasters of the Sells-Floto circus, was in town over Sunday. "Bill" reports the show doing the best business in its history and in some places they cannot handle the crowds, especially at Sinclair Inn.

HASSETT'S MUSIC & ART SHOPPE
115 Congress St.

When questioned why his home town was not on the Sells-Floto itinerary, he said that the outfit was not anchored very heavy to New England this season, and that only one city of this state, Berlin, saw the performance. The tents were pitched there to break up a long run from Canada to Lewiston, Me. Speaking of Carpenter, the French gunnies doing exhibition bouts with the show, he said the glove arched from across the Atlantic was a big card and a fast man in the boxing game.

He met several of his old friends at the local Lodge of Elks of which he is a member and got us warm welcome as he did when he arrived back from the battlefields of France. While here he was the guest of Mr. and Mrs. John Murphy of Chapel street.

LABOR SCARCE, PRODUCTS OF FARM HIGH

Laborers Refuse to Heed Call of "Back to the Land."

Albany, N. Y., May 30.—Farms of New York state will produce their normal contribution to the nation's food supply this season if the farmers are willing to pay the high wages demanded by farm labor, say officials of the State Department of Farms and Markets. These officials express the hope that the farmers are beginning to realize that their products will command high prices next fall and that this will induce them to pay high wages to laborers and to plant at least as many acres as in former years.

The farm workers will be found, say department officials, when the farmer is willing to pay them the wages they want. The problem of the farmer is the cost of labor rather than shortage, they declare. Woodsman, who have been working in the logging camps during the winter are expected to go to the farms in the summer. Besides, says state officials, the annual "back to the land" migration from the cities should relieve the labor situation. Men who have been hired from the rural communities and towns by the higher wages offered in shop and factory begin to leave for outdoor life when the warm days come, they say, and little coaxing is needed to make them exchange their work on their farms for moths for open spaces of soil and meadow.

Planting has been delayed but this is attributed mostly to unfavorable weather conditions. There was difficulty in the spring in obtaining seed, fertilizer, farm implements and machinery but the state officials say these commodities have been supplied as a result of efforts of the Department of Farms and Markets in cooperation with railroad officials.

Expectation that the New York state farmer will see his duty and do it this year is based in part upon his record in 1917 and 1918 when farm laborers of the draft age were in the army. The state officials say that the farmer never before faced such a labor shortage but, nevertheless, those were banner years in crop production in New York state as well as for the bank balances for the farmers. They declare that if the farmer will pay the wages demanded, he will receive this year bigger profits than ever before.

JAPANESE HAVE THINGS OWN WAY IN MANCHURIA

Peking, May 30.—Reports reaching here indicate that the Japanese are carrying things with a high hand in Manchuria now that the other Allied troops are virtually out of the country. The Peking and Tientsin Times has received from its correspondents reports which it presents under the heading "Reign of Terror in Manchuria." It says that at Imantao, two Russian workmen who made some disparaging remarks about the Japanese Emperor in talking to a Japanese soldier in the Russian railway hospital were seized by Japanese soldiers and summarily shot on the spot. At Harbin, the paper says, Japanese sentries stationed on a bridge threw one Russian off the bridge breaking his collarbone and stabbed another in the face with a bayonet when the Russians insisted upon crossing the bridge.

The Japanese are reported by the newspaper to have taken full possession of Harbin and arrested there 11 Russian workers and handed them over to the representative of General Semenoff and the Times adds that by this time "no doubt they have been shot by their Ussuri steleberg."

The Japanese are declared to have brought to Harbin and armed 600 Semenoff troops who are reported to be actively raiding the Japanese and helping to terrorize the local population. The Times predicts that similar incidents are likely to increase as the Japanese hold of the Russian Far East becomes more intense and states that the Japanese garrison at Harbin is to be increased by 1,000 more men. This reinforcement is declared by the paper to be absolutely unnecessary as the Chinese troops stationed there are sufficient to maintain order.

The situation along the Chinese Eastern Railway was characterized by the Times' correspondent as very critical. He stated that the Japanese military authorities had decided to place their own guards and sentries along the whole stretch of the railway which crosses Upper Manchuria, because they were afraid to send troops along that railway and were afraid the Russian railway workers who were opposed to Japanese intervention might try to stop the Japanese from carrying out their plans.

WHAT A FORMER PRISONER SAYS ABOUT THE U. S. NAVAL PRISON

A former prisoner at the Portsmouth Naval Prison has written the following to the Foster's Dover Democrat, in answer to an editorial printed by that paper.

I have just finished reading your editorial entitled, "The Naval Prison Clemency Board." I appreciate the attitude you take towards this prison affair. You sure have the right dope. I'm hoping that other papers take up this matter and bring it before the eyes of the public in such a way that the public will force the navy department and Congress to do something for these boys.

There are dozens of men confined in Portsmouth naval prison that have been there since before the end of the war for small offenses.

I know in one case where two marines were found guilty of absence without leave for three days, and a half in time of war from a battleship at anchor off the coast of Scotland. These men were sentenced in September, 1918, to 16 years imprisonment, which was later reduced to ten years.

Both of these men have done more than 20 months of their sentences.

It is a fine and correct thing to do in time of war to be strict in maintaining discipline; but since the war is over, it seems to me that it is a great injustice to keep these lads confined in a prison. It certainly doesn't better the discipline any now.

This "Clemency Board" was for the purpose of reducing sentences or of restoring to duty such men as the two I have made reference to. But what does it do? Performs the duties of an investigation board and says that the person will have to become strictly regulation again, like it was before Mr. Osborne went there.

How does the navy think it can ever recruit men to the ranks while the present injustice is being committed in that branch of service?

I can hardly restrain myself from going up to a bunch of fellows which I often see cornered by a chief petty officer on recruiting duty, trying to entice them into the navy, and tell them just what the navy has done and is doing to her personnel. If everyone knew the navy as I do, it would be a mighty hard matter to get any recruits with it running the way it is at present and the way it has been running the past two or three years.

Men at the Portsmouth Naval Prison during the regime of Thomas Mott Osborne have bettered themselves and have received more humane treatment than any man in active duty in the navy. The Mutual Welfare League, the system of self-government by prisoners founded by P. M. Osborne in the greatest help to society that it has had since Christ. Now they want

SPEND THE WEEK-END IN CANADA

Woodsville, May 31—According to the statement of railroad men, the natives of New Hampshire are no longer listening to the slogan of our summer resort boomers—"See our own state first." The men who punch the tickets and carry flags in the rear end of trains destined for Montreal, tell interesting tales concerning the increase of passenger traffic between points in this state and the Canadian metropolis—Montreal, mecca of the moisture seeker. Though the trip by the way of old New Hampshire and Vermont is fairly long one, there's refreshments at the journey's end—the same sort of refreshment which could be had in the United States of America before the Sheppard amendment to the federal constitution became effective.

Railroaders claim that if the traffic between New Hampshire points and Montreal continues to increase as it has within the past six months, the stock of the Boston & Maine railroad will hit a high spot in the shank.

The traffic between this state and Montreal, does not by any means, pass entirely through this place. Hundreds of men beat on a week-end in Montreal make the trip by way of the Central Vermont railroad, entering Vermont at White River Junction.

It is entered by those who make these pilgrimages in search of a climate with a greater degree of dampness than the expense of such journeys is not excessive, the cost of the tour of three days, including three quarts of honest-to-goodness whiskey. Word comes from Montreal that the booze bounds of the United States will have no reason to charge that there is profiteering in the selling of liquor as dealers believe in doing the right thing by the boys from the U. S. who spend their money on long railroad trips to help fill the till in the Dominion treasury.

One cannot advertise Canadian whiskey in the newspapers in the States but it is claimed that 10 satisfied customers are worth more to a Montreal liquor vendor than $500 spent in such publicity. If it was possible to so expend money. The scheme is very simple. The bartender asks his customers to tell their friends that they can buy whiskey of high voltage at $3.25 and upward a quart. The prospective buyer needs no better guarantee of the quality of the goods offered than the word of his friend who has put down a couple of quarts during a three day's stay in Montreal.

It is these stories—tales which resemble narratives of boozefests before the term "bone dry" was incorporated in the dictionary used in this country—which are responsible for the increasing passenger traffic between Massachusetts and New Hampshire points and the end of the railbow where one may get a drink or a bath in whiskey, rum, gin, wine or "suds."

But little attempt is made it is said, by these short term visitors to Montreal to smuggle liquor back to the States. They bring it back beneath their belts and tell their friends that the cost of their trips, ranging from about $15 from this place to twice that figure from other points is worth the experiencing of indulging in an "Morris Sheppard" cocktail, an "Anderson" highball or a "full length" drink of Holland gin with the knowledge that the jurisdiction of the federal prohibition directors does not reach across the Canadian border.

One dealer in liquor in Montreal, greets every new customer from the States with the question, "Why doesn't the States let you booze hounds pay the cost of the war? You fellows are spending money here in the Dominion which you ought to keep at home."

The only reply is, "Don't know; give me a quart of red liquor."

It is claimed by the railroad men that these thirty visitors in Montreal generally travel in parties of two, three or four and that they hire a room in a moderate priced hotel, where they store their liquid refreshments and drop in for a drink whenever they feel like indulging. They spend a day or two seeing the sights and come home satisfied that they have had their money's worth, and most of those who make the trip say they are financially ahead of the game as compared to what it costs to have a party with whiskey of very ordinary quality selling at $12 and $15 a quart, and hard to get even at that price.

Old timers, those whose palates have often been wet with the "bar" whiskey of commerce which used to be dealt out to longshoremen and those whose internal organs would withstand the third rail type of booze, declare that the liquor sold in Canada is the sort which appeals to the taste of a gentleman and that one does not become intoxicated as quickly as when partaking of the brands of firewater manufactured in the states.

MRS. CARPENTER ALLEN TO ## NOMINATE GEN. WOOD

New York, May 30—Governor Henry J. Allen of Kansas, who has himself been mentioned as a presidential possibility has consented to place the name of Gen. Wood before the Republican national convention in Chicago next month for nomination for the presidency of the United States.

The matter of obtaining Gov. Allen's consent to make the Wood nomination speech has been pending for some time. His consent was given on the telephone Saturday morning to Col. William C. Proctor, head of the campaign forces. The governor later had the following statement to make:

"I received a telegram from Gen. Wood, dated at Charlottesville, Va., last night as I was starting for my debate with Samuel Gompers, President of the American Federation of Labor. Although I have not yet replied directly to Gen. Wood, I got in touch this morning with Col. William C. Proctor in charge of his preconvention campaign and assured him I would consider it a great privilege to present the general's name."

The telegram which he had received from General Wood, the governor said, was in the nature of a personal invitation. It was to the effect that Gen. Wood and his friends after considering the most desirable men to place his name before the convention, had agreed that the governor was the most fitted.

Gen. Wood's telegram stated that he and his friends realized the vital importance of the personality and reputation of the men who would present his name.

In making the announcement of his acceptance, the governor said he had always been a Wood supporter and wished to see the general the next President.

Governor Allen will leave for Washington tomorrow where he will testify before the house labor committee concerning the Kansas Industrial Relations Court.

MAKING BOTH ENDS MEET

I often hear my neighbors growl. Because the rent is high; The price of beans is going up; It makes them sot and sight;

They've seen a newly wedded man Show his disgust complete; When he had labored all day long In making both ends meet,

Now it he'd watch a baby As it plays upon the floor;

He'd learn a wonderful lesson; That would heat him all the more; For a cool, laughing baby

When playing with his feet;

Thrusts a rosy toe into his mouth;

Thus making both ends meet.

Behold the brazen butcher,

As he charges double price;

You would think of asking him;

For any good advice;

But when he's muking sausages,

To make the "dog" complete;

He tosses in the tail and ears;

In making both ends "meat!"

FRANCE JOINS WITH U. S. IN HONORING THE HERO DEAD

(By Associated Press)

Paris, May 30—Marshall Petain, the hero dead began, is incomplete. The war was fought to establish last commander-in-chief of the French in peace for mankind. We must pray, speaking at the Memorial Day service this year.

Overseas at the St. Sébastien cemetery to-day told 10,000 people of the gratitude of France for the sacrifices of the sons of America who came to France and on their soil fought for her protection. He said in part:

"To salute the graves which mark the resting places of your co-patriots who fell on the field of France, the commander-in-chief in behalf of the government of the Republic comes with respect, faithful to the custom distinguished by your great Lincoln and which your Excellency observed with such fine feeling on the soil of France. We come here with you to decorate the graves of the heroes who fell in the defense of justice, freedom and independence."

Ambassador Wallace said that so long as the peace of the world is threatened by the hideous head of anarchy, which must be crushed without consideration for the cost, the work of

WAR DEPARTMENT CLAIMS AMOUNT TO $900,000,000

Washington, May 28—Claims against the war department aggregating $900,000,000 remain unpaid to contractors and others who furnished war materials to the government during the war although the war had been ended for more than a year and a half. These figures are an estimate obtained by Secretary of War Baker from Assistant Secretary of War Crowell.

There are in all approximately 1,600 claims which remain unsettled, Mr. Crowell informed Mr. Baker. There were, when the war ended a year ago November, a total of 24,000 claims to be dealt with, but those which are left were the largest and the most difficult to handle.

Within the last few weeks it has been stated in authoritative quarters that the failure of the war department to pay the claims which are outstanding has caused much embarrassment to contractors and others to whom the money is due. Certainly bankers have doled out that the situation has resulted in the "freezing up" of a vast amount of credit and is responsible in a degree for the present apparent tight money market.

Immediate relief is in prospect, if any such situation really exists, according to both Mr. Baker and Mr. Crowell. The fact that the government's fiscal year is in sight, ending in fact on June 30, has caused a general speeding up, they said, of the handling of claims. On that date a number of officers who have been engaged in the auditing and settlement of claims will leave the service, because of the automatic reduction of the war department staff at that time. In addition it is the hope of the officials to have the state as nearly clear as possible on that date for the beginning of the new year.

This is possible, Mr. Crowell said, because most of the claims still outstanding have been fairly well gone over and many of them may be regarded as 95 per cent adjusted. That is officers and others of the war depart-

HERE AND THERE IN SPORTS

Bill Horan of this city pitched Holy Cross to another win on Saturday afternoon on the Schenck river course, defeating Syracuse by a full length. It was sweet revenge for the midshipmen, for Syracuse is the only eight that has won from the Navy in two years, defeating them two weeks ago. Rowing experts are of the opinion that the navy has the finest crew in the country and should represent this country in the Olympic games.

PRICES ARE NOT ACTUALLY LOWER

Washington, May 30—Despite recent reduction in prices, little relief from the general reign of high prices is seen by the federal reserve board in its analysis of May business conditions, made public tonight. The board expressed the view that there has been no change in the underlying conditions responsible for the high cost of living.

Asserting that while "store sales" and tendency to lower prices bear witness to the presence of disturbing factors which suggest the advent of wide alteration in price values, the board declares it cannot accept the situation as a whole for its face value. The explanation is added that there has been only a slight increase in production and there is no greater disposition on the part of the general public to economize and invest than had ruled heretofore.

The changes that have taken place, therefore, the board's analysis says "cannot be looked upon as indicating a modification of underlying conditions. They may, however, afford a basis for changes in business relations that may broaden into more far-reaching alteration of the essential price structure."

Business in every section of the country has suffered considerably from the freight and which has prevented normal movement of products to markets. Effects of the tie-up are noticed in the agricultural districts as much as the industrial areas and it is explained that farmers are not the smallest class which has been after more tank help in the way of credit as a result.

The Portsmouth Country club will hold its first golf tournament today and it is the opening of a busy season in golf. It is a handicap medal play tournament and the new handicap which are the same as that of the state, will be used. The course is in this shape and there is the liveliest interest in golf this year, more so than for many years.

The industrial athlete meet at the playgrounds this forenoon will attract considerable attention. This is the first athletic meet in this city for years and it is expected that some good talent will be brought out. Teams are entered from the navy yard, Atlantic Corporation, Y. M. C. A., P. A. C., and many from unattached industries.

The local gunners will have a try-out this forenoon at the Country club traps and have a chance to try at a distance handicap event, which will be one of the features of the state shoot. The platforms are in place and two traps have been installed so that any size field may be taken care of. Another trap will be installed for the big state shoot, which will be the biggest shoot of its kind ever held in this city. A field of forty to fifty of the best known trap shooters of the country is expected for the state shoot and nearly $500 in prizes will be given.

GERMANS FAIL IN EDUCATION OF THE TURK

Constantinople, May 7—The Germans have failed in their effort to stamp their culture upon the Turk and instead the English language is beginning to rank next to French in the commercial life of the Levant.

In the war period German language schools were opened throughout the city in which German officers were required to teach and German papers were circulated by all possible means. But the results were almost nil. Most of the schools were free and failed to attract better classes, and French was too strongly entrenched as the language of trade and social intercourse to be displaced.

Since the篆stinctive Italians have all been working industriously to popularize their language and literature, Italian officers are now teaching in schools as the Germans did. But their schools are well attended only in the poorer parts of the city.

It is the expectation of officials that the $900,000,000 in claims outstanding about $100,000,000 will be paid, this estimate being obtained from the fact that in the settlement of bills to date payments were made on about thirteen per cent of the money asked originally.

Of course this is no assurance that this percentage figure will govern all throughout, but it is the opinion of Mr. Baker and Mr. Crowell that it fairly well reflects the situation to be anticipated.

Since the篆stinctive Americans have all been working industriously to popularize their language and literature, American officers are now teaching in schools as the Germans did. But their schools are well attended only in the poorer parts of the city.

Certain important changes have recently been announced relating to examinations, the changes being in the Oxford University regulations rather than in those of the Rhodes Trust.

Heretofore a candidate has had to pass the Oxford entrance examinations and these examinations, though not especially difficult, are chiefly in the classics. This year the University has decided to admit graduates of approved American universities and colleges to immediate study for their degrees at Oxford without any examination of any kind, and even for regular undergraduates examination in the Greek language is no longer compulsory.

It is hoped that many men who would formerly have felt themselves barred from the scholarships by reason of lack of preparation in the classics will take advantage of the new conditions. The opportunity for study in almost any field, the delightful life of the University, the chance to renew friendships and continue travel begun by those who have been abroad during the war, the opportunity to observe at first hand the intensely interesting process of readjustment and asserting that while "store sales" and tendency to lower prices bear witness to the presence of disturbing factors which suggest the advent of wide alteration in price values, the board declares it cannot accept the situation as a whole for its face value. The explanation is added that there has been only a slight increase in production and there is no greater disposition on the part of the general public to economize and invest than had ruled heretofore.

The changes that have taken place, therefore, the board's analysis says "cannot be looked upon as indicating a modification of underlying conditions. They may, however, afford a basis for changes in business relations that may broaden into more far-reaching alteration of the essential price structure."

Business in every section of the country has suffered considerably from the freight and which has prevented normal movement of products to markets. Effects of the tie-up are noticed in the agricultural districts as much as the industrial areas and it is explained that farmers are not the smallest class which has been after more tank help in the way of credit as a result.

The Portsmouth Country club will hold its first golf tournament today and it is the opening of a busy season

INFLUENCE OF MOTHER INVALUABLE

Authority on Social Hygiene Tells of Duties.

Boston, May 28—Mother is the individual who can cure theills of the country today.

It is her influence that will keep the young girls sweet and wholesome, the girls who will be the mothers of the next generation of citizens—the citizens on whom the future of the country will depend.

Mother should know the people with whom her little girls work and with whom they play. A mother should visit the employer of her daughter and see the sort of place she works in. These were some of the facts emphasized by Mary E. Driscoll, head of the Massachusetts Branch of the United States Interdepartment Board of Social Hygiene, who addressed a mass meeting of mothers at the High School of Practical Arts.

"With your help," she declared, "we will not need reformatories for girls under 17. I feel that you do not understand your girl in the adolescent period, because she is your child and you have educated her and cared for her. It doesn't necessarily follow that you understand her when she begins to think for herself."

The adolescent girl is the most mischievous person there is. You can't sit her down and tell her to play with her dolls, for she won't. You should try to win her confidence and sympathize with her. She is easily offended. Don't offend her. Above all don't nag her. Hundreds of little girls run away from home in a fit of temper because of something mother said to them."

Constipation Causes Serious Ills

If you are its victim, try strengthening your digestive and eliminative organs with Nature's Remedy—it's better than laxatives.

NR Today—Keeps the Doctor Away

One of the world's greatest religions that more than 90% of all human life can be traced directly or indirectly to constipation. How many sufferers realize this?

Most of them continually dose themselves with laxatives, enemas, cathartics, oil purges and castor oil and force bowel motion. This is a mistake. It weakens the bowel and liver and makes constant dosing necessary.

Why don't you begin right today to overcome your constipation and get your system in high shape that constant drugging will be unnecessary? You can do so if you take a box of Nature's Remedy (NR Tablets) and take one each night for a week or two.

NR Tablets do much more than merely cause instant, easy bowel movements. They stimulate the bowels and liver and make constant dosing unnecessary.

TO BURY BONUS BILL UNTIL AFTER ELECTION

(By Associated Press)

Washington, May 30.—The soldiers' bonus bill passed by the house yesterday will be received in the senate tomorrow and following the regular order will be sent to the committee. Inasmuch as it appears or possibly an adjournment will be taken next Saturday until after the political convention, the bonus bill is due for a long rest in the committee. If it is taken it will be until September. Some senators are frank in their opinion that the bill will remain in the committee for a long time and that it may mean its final interment.

MEMORIAL MESSAGES FROM BAKER AND DANIELS

Washington, May 30—Memorial Day

messages were made public tonight by Secretaries Baker and Daniels, following the custom of the war and many departments.

"The tribute of flowers which today are placed on the graves of our soldiers are the outward emblem of a deep and solemn emotion which fills the entire nation," Mr. Baker said. "We shall have in our minds the virtues of those to whose memory Memorial Day was originally set apart and we think with fresh pride and affection of the American soldiers of the world war who in their youth and strength earned America overmuch and showed the old world the fruits of the institutions which our fathers established and our soldiers in all generations have victoriously defended. The heart of the nation too will be filled with sympathy as it tries to share the personal burden of those whose family ties were broken by the sacrifice of war."

"The country that forgets its defenders does not deserve a citizenship courageous enough to place their lives in jeopardy to defend it," said Secretary Daniels. "The valor of the youths of one day is to the number of 4,000,000 who were ready in the world war to die for America teaches us that the breed of heroes has not played out. There are as many Nathan Hale's in every one hundred youths today as there were in the Revolution. This knowledge gives higher appreciation of the soldiers and sailors in whose honor we celebrate Memorial day. We think more of their sacrifice even unto death, than before the generation had experienced what war means. As we honor the dead heroes today let the people of the republic rededicate themselves to a love of freedom that knows no creed or race nor climate nor ocean boundary."

REEL OF WORLD'S BIGGEST BATTLESHIP SOON TO BE LAID

Quincy, Mass., May 28.—The lay of the world's biggest warship will be laid down here within six months. The battle cruiser Lexington combining in a degree unequalled by any ship of war now built or building the qualities of powerful armament and high speed has taken form in drawings and now awaits the arrival of materials to be advanced from the hands of the architect to those of the builder. By fall, it is estimated, the prospective queen of the United States navy, will become a ship under construction instead of an ambitious plan.

The Lexington is the name ship of a class of battle cruisers which will give the U.S. within four years a fleet of six big-gun fighting ships unmatched by anything yet afloat. Her sister ships, the Constitution, Saratoga, Ranger, Constitution and United States, are also under contract. They bring names out of the old navy with which to develop for the first new capital vessels of the post-war fleet a traditional background for fresh exploits.

With the others of its class the Lexington will be a whale of a ship. It will displace 40,200 tons and will have the power of 180,000 horses, as measured in mechanical terms. Its length of 844 feet is within 46 feet of the length of the Leviathan, monster passenger liner. The 1014 feet of width of the Lexington will make that floating gun platform broader than any passenger ship.

The Lexington, which is to be equipped with electric drive, will attain a speed of 36 knots. Third cruiser speed, higher than that of many destroyers in the object of much of the design work that entered into the creation of the Lexington class. Armor will be sacrificed to make possible the 36 knot speed—the main belt being only 5 inches thick at its maximum as compared with the 12 inch steel belt on most battleships but armament will be of tremendous power. The Lexington thus will have not only the strategic advantage of high speed but will be able to fire a heavier charge over a greater distance than any other battleship for which the plans are known.

An indication of the Lexington's greatness is afforded by comparison with the British warship Hood, which when it is floated will be the biggest ship in the British navy afloat.

CHEVROLET WON 500 MILE AUTO RACE

(By Associated Press)

Indianapolis, May 31—Gaston Chevrolet won the five hundred mile race today at the Indianapolis speedway, before a record breaking crowd of 125,000 people. His time was 5 hours 49 minutes, 10 seconds. His average speed was 88.16 miles an hour. Rene Thomas was second. Ralph De Palma, favorite, was robbed of an apparent certain victory, when his car caught fire when he was ten miles in the lead and with only thirty miles to go. After he had extinguished the fire he resumed the race but finished fifth. Tommy Milton was third and Mercer fourth. De Palma was given a great ovation as he finished. An exciting accident happened at the finish of the race when a car driven by Joe Boyer who led for the first 250 miles, overturned on one of the upper turns and crashed into a brick retaining wall. Chevrolet's car was an American model.
